

Creating Justice: A Colorful Mindfulness Meditation

As you color the image below, reflect on how you prefer to express yourself. Is there a favorite form of art that flows naturally for you, like music, writing, drawing, or dance? Consider how you can use your creativity to express yourself, support your well-being, inspire others, and contribute to creating a more just society.

